

LOCAL NEWS.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—War Department, Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Washington, D. C., Feb. 12, 1877. 10:30 a. m.—For the Middle States, falling, followed by rising barometer, warmer southwest, followed Tuesday night by colder northwest winds and partly cloudy weather.

CRUEL TREATMENT.—The Baltimore American has the following:—

"The puny Caroline, Captain Ewing, from 'Griffith' with oysters, arrived yesterday afternoon with a passenger on board who had been picked up in the Bay off Point Lookout. This passenger is a boy about fourteen years old, and gives the name of Bertrand Powers. He tells an extraordinary story. He says that he was employed as cook on the schooner Gloucester from New Haven for Alexandria. The Captain, James Larder, and the mate, Henry Fluxion, treated him very badly, and one day at sea, because the dinner was not well cooked, beat him with a rope's end and kicked him in the stomach, so that for several days he was so ill that it was only because he was beaten, when he refused, that he could do any work at all. Finally, on last Friday night, the Gloucester came in to the Potomac and anchored inside of Point Lookout. The captain and mate were ashore, and young Powers determined to run away. Accordingly, when it became dusk and the crew were below, he imperceptibly took by putting overboard half of a barrel which had been sawed in two lengthwise, and which had been used as a dog's kennel. To make it steady in the water he put a board across the bottom, and with a small paddle pushed off from the schooner, and fearing to make for the shore lest the captain and mate returning should meet him, he attempted to make his way into the bay by night. About nine o'clock, when he had been about about two hours, the wind began to blow, and the sea capsize his frail craft. Being a good swimmer, he regained his paddle, and turned the barrel over, and once more got inside. All night long, in the cold air and in his wet clothes, he watched for his passing vessel that might pick him up, but he was out of the track of vessels, and not until the evening of the following day did he get near enough to hail one of them. The crew of the Caroline finally saw his signal, and standing to picked him up. He was then in an exhausted condition. Captain Ewing turned him with dry clothing, and gave him a passage to Baltimore. Young Powers says that this is his first experience on salt water, and that he had not wanted any more. He is from Berlin, Connecticut, where his father is in good circumstances, and he avows his intention of returning home immediately."

CONSECRATION OF A BISHOP.—The consecration of Dr. C. A. Penick, Bishop elect of Cape Palmas, Africa, will take place to-morrow in St. Paul's Church, in this city. It is expected a large number of clergy and others from the neighboring cities will attend. The Rev. Thos. Atkinson, of North Carolina, will be the consecrator. Bishops Pickney, of Maryland, and Dudley, of Kentucky, will present the candidate. Bishop Whittle, of Virginia, preaches the sermon. The service begins at 11 o'clock a. m. Seats will be reserved for the clergy until fifteen minutes before 11; likewise seats will be reserved until the same time for the professors and students of the Theological Seminary, for all ministers of the Gospel resident in Alexandria, and for one hundred friends of the candidate from Baltimore, to whom he gives tickets of admission. Rev. Dr. Penick has been for several years past the rector of the Church of the Messiah, in Baltimore, and preached his farewell sermon there yesterday, in which he referred to his new field of labor. He does not expect to leave for Africa until after the meeting of the General Convention in October, and will, in the meantime, reside in Baltimore.

MARINE ACCIDENT.—The tug boat Smith Pettit arrived up this morning, having in tow the disabled brig Ellen H. Munroe, reported in Saturday's Gazette. The Munroe is a new vessel, this being her first trip, and belongs to Captain L. A. Knowles, of Machias, Maine. She is a first class vessel, being solidly built and finished in the best style, a fact to which, coupled with the seamanship and exertions of her crew, she owes her escape from an entire loss. Her life and mainmast together with the upper yards were carried away in a gale of wind off Cape Henry, on the 22d of January, and she was blown off into the Gulf stream. There light sails were rigged on her lower masts and she was brought into the bay and up to the mouth of the Potomac, where she was towed in by a revenue cutter as previously reported. The loss of the topmasts and the chafe of her sides by the fallen wire rigging are all the damages she has sustained. The vessel is loaded with plaster from Nova Scotia for Wm. A. Smoot of this city.

M. E. CHURCH.—This church was crowded in every part last evening. The services were conducted by the pastor, who also preached from Mark, v. chap. 15th verse:—"And they came to Jesus and see him that was possessed of the devil and had the legion, sitting and clothed and in his right mind, and they were afraid." At the close of the sermon, Mr. Webb invited converts to retire into the lecture room. About fifteen persons responded to the invitation. After two or three earnest prayers, the congregation in the church was dismissed. The pastor and several others remained with the converts. Four of these professed conversion. In the course of the day eight persons united with the church. The pastor announced the continuation of the meetings. Rev. W. C. Webb will conduct both services to-day and preach to-night.

THE MARYLAND FERRY.—A meeting of the Alexandria and Maryland Steam Ferry Company was held at the rooms of the Coro Exchange, this morning, a majority of the stock being represented (146 shares). The Joseph Brothers, esq., was called to the chair and John P. Wheat, esq., president of the company, made a statement of its affairs, showing the indebtedness to be eleven hundred and fifty dollars. After receiving the report the following resolution was adopted:—

Resolved, That the president and directors be authorized to sell the boat and the franchise of the company jointly or separately, at private or public sale, or as they may deem best for the interest of the stockholders. The meeting then adjourned.

SCHOOL HONORS TO ALEXANDRIA BOYS.—The exercises incident to the close of Christmas term at the Episcopal High School, near this city, took place Saturday afternoon. The exercises were of a most interesting character, the second of the two composing the session being to-day. Among those who received Certificates of Distinction in the Intermediate examinations were the following:—

Morgan H. Fleming,
A. Walton Fleming,
H. Nelson Lloyd,
W. Prosser Morgan,
William A. Powell, and
George S. Somerville.

The first of these, Morgan Beach, was distinguished in every examination.

NOT THE MAN.—A white boy, accused of the robbery of Mr. Samuel Orison's store, at Leesburg, mentioned in Saturday's Gazette, was arrested at Guilford on Saturday and carried to Leesburg; but on examination before a magistrate was discharged.

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH.—Rev. Dr. David Wilson, President of Maryland Annual Conference, preached a very eloquent and instructive sermon in this church, yesterday morning. Rev. Dr. Nichols, pastor of the church, has accepted an invitation to preach, at the dedication of a church in Fairfax county, next Sunday, and the church for that day has been lent to Rev. Mr. Proctor and four assistants, from Washington, who will hold three revival meetings there. A meeting of the members of the church will be held on Wednesday night, to elect a delegate to the Maryland Annual Conference, which meets at Westminster, Md., on the second Wednesday in March.

POLICE ITEMS.—There were thirteen prisoners in the station house yesterday, six of them being boot-blacks, who were arrested for disorderly conduct at the Fayette street depot, and the rest of them old drunkards, who had been locked up to sober off. All were fined and discharged.

ELIJAH DOLEMAN, colored, was before the Mayor this morning, having been arrested by Officer Walker, with a railroad cross-tie, supposed to have been stolen from the W. & O. R. R., and was sentenced to ten lashes.

Two negro women, one of whom accused the other of stealing a small sum of money from her, were locked up for further examination.

KEEP YOUR PROMISES.—Sometime since a well-known milkman, living near town, borrowed from a wagon maker, in this city, a pair of shafts, with a promise to return them in a few days, which he failed to do. Early this morning the wagon maker found this milkman's wagon on Royal street, near the market, and unbitching the horse, took the shafts off and carried them away. The owner of the wagon returned in a few minutes, and his dismay at finding his horse standing by a shaftless wagon, caused great merriment among the bystanders. The moral of all of which is that borrowed property should be returned promptly.

THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.—The churches yesterday were all well attended, whether on account of the delightful state of the atmosphere or a sudden outpouring of piety cannot be stated. Rev. Henry White, of Winchester, preached both morning and night at the Second Presbyterian church. At the M. E. Church South, Rev. Mr. McMullan preached in the morning, and at the M. P. church, Rev. Dr. David Wilson. At St. Mary's church, in the morning, the regulations for Lent were read. The congregations at the night services in the various churches were particularly large.

PANCAKE DAY.—To-morrow will be Shrove Tuesday, so called from the ancient practice on that day and being observed or shrove, as a preparation for the feast of Lent. It is known as Pancake Day, because it was formerly the last day before Easter on which these much loved articles of diet could be eaten, owing to the exclusion of the eggs, of which they are so largely composed, from the list of permitted food.

Special Dispatches to the Gazette.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 12.—The Senate met at two o'clock.

It was decided that no recess could be taken until the close of the electoral vote of Florida had been counted with, and that in the meantime no other business could be transacted.

So the Senate remained in session, ready to proceed to the House, until two o'clock, when it went into joint session with the House.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House met at 10 o'clock, but the point being made that there was not a quorum present—a point that was agreed that nothing should be done until half-past ten, at which time

The report of the electoral commission was taken up, and

Mr. Field, of N. Y., offered a resolution that the decision of the electoral commission on the Florida case be not accepted, but that the democratic electors from that State be declared electors.

Mr. Hale, of Me., offered an amendment that the electoral vote of Florida be counted in conformity with the decision of the commission.

Mr. Knott, of Ky., offered as a substitute a preamble and resolution denying the election of the Hayes electors, and asserting the election of the Tilden electors, as shown by the action of the Legislature and courts of that State, as fully exhibited, and giving to the commission an opportunity to correct their decision, for which purpose the report shall be remanded for correction or explanation.

Mr. Hale contended that the House could not entertain Mr. Knott's proposition under the electoral bill, and that all the House could do would be to vote on the report of the commission.

Mr. Wood, of N. Y., thought that the House had a right to express its opinion in any manner it might think proper. He denied that there was any intention to delay action on the part of the democrats.

Mr. Hale said that Mr. Knott's proposition carried delay upon its face, and contended that there could be no reconsideration.

Mr. Knott contended that there was no evidence in any certificate from Florida, except that marked 3, that a canvass of the vote had ever been made, and that certificate having been thrown out, it was perfectly competent for the House to remand the decision to the commission, that it may have an opportunity to correct its decision in accordance with facts, and that in the meantime the vote of that State should not be counted.

Mr. Knott contended that the substitute of Mr. Knott was not in order, and that could not be entertained under the provisions of the electoral bill.

Mr. Wood thought that no constitutional right would be violated by the adoption of the substitute.

Mr. Banks contended that all that could be done was to vote aye or no upon the decision of the commission.

Mr. Knott asked if the commission were to find that it had made a mistake would it not be competent to send back its opinion.

Mr. Banks said that if the commission asked for the return of its decision it would be competent to return it, but not otherwise.

The point was further debated by Messrs. Wood, Burchard and others, when

The consideration of Mr. Knott's substitute, but upon a point made by Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, radical, that nothing could be referred to an outside commission, by either House, the substitute was ruled out, and

Mr. McCrary, of Iowa, radical, proceeded to address the House in support of the report of the Commission.

Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, democrat, next addressed the House, severely criticizing the action of the Commission in its rulings as to Humphrey's eligibility, and in permitting the usurpation, by a board, of the powers of the Legislature and Courts of a State, as also of the elective functions.

Mr. Banks, of Massachusetts, radical, replied to Mr. Tucker, upholding the action of the Commission and the proceedings of the Florida Board.

Mr. Springer, of Illinois, democrat, opposed the report, and regretted that the vote should have been eight to seven in the Commission, or that partisanship should have entered into the high tribunal that was to decide the fate of the nation.

Mr. Frye, of Me., radical, replied, defending the radical party from the charge of fraud and corruption, and of stealing the vote of Florida, as charged by the democrats. His bold assertions of the honesty and purity of his party and that the frauds were perpetrated by the democrats caused much laughter.

Mr. Hunt, of Ohio, dem., next spoke, entering his protest against the novel, anomalous and remarkable judgment of the commission, claiming that the action of the Florida board was clearly a fraud, and should not have been permitted to thwart the will of the people. He contended that the fraud ought to have been investigated and upon that a decision rendered, rather than legalizing the fraud and thus bringing republican institutions into disrepute everywhere. He said that the people would not be satisfied with the decision, because the fraud was not looked into, and that the man inaugurated under these circumstances would be looked upon as a usurper by the American people. Mr. H.'s remarks, at the close were loudly applauded.

Mr. Carr, of Indiana, dem., successor to Speaker Kerr—upbraided the democrats for agreeing to the appointment of the commission and contended that upon the heads of the democratic majority of the House, would the result of this stupendous fraud rest. His speech caused much amusement on the radical side.

Mr. Thompson, of Massachusetts, ind., opposed the fixing of the Commission, upon the ground of the palpable fraud of the Florida Returning Board, and the explicit fact of the return of the Tilden electors, and though the voice of the Returning Board is known to be false, the House is called upon to sanction this falsehood.

Mr. Duane, of Minnesota, rad., spoke in favor of the report of the Commission, and in justification of the acts of the radicals of the House and of the Florida Returning Board, and thought it strange that any one would suppose that the action of the democratic Legislature of Florida should be considered by the Commission.

Gov. Walker, of Virginia, dem., made a fervent, eloquent, and manly protest against the endorsement of the report of the Commission, and concluded by placing the onus of the great wrong to be done upon the radical party.

Mr. Robbins, of North Carolina, dem., would rather the democrats should lose the final result than elect a President by legal technicalities and fraud, as the other side would have to do to seat Hayes.

Mr. Hopkins, of Pennsylvania, dem., had read, amid much confusion, the number of witnesses examined on both sides by the Florida investigating Committee.

Mr. Kasson, of Iowa, rad., contended that the evidence was not sufficient to prove fraud in Florida. He favored the adoption of the report.

Mr. Field, of N. Y., reviewed the situation, and hoped that the republican party would not install evil in place of good, or a fraud in the presidential chair. He said that the doctrine is that if a squad of soldiers had been marching into the State House of Florida and the returning board and governor forced to sign the returns, there was no redress. He also said that if Hayes was counted it would be by the vote of a pardoned convict—a colored preacher and member of the Florida returning board.

Mr. Field concluded the debate, when the vote was taken upon the amendment of Mr. Hale sustaining the report of the commission, and it was decided in the negative—ayes 97, noes 167.

The question then recurred upon the resolution of Mr. Field, rejecting the report, and the report was rejected—ayes 168, noes 103.

On motion of Mr. Field, the Clerk was notified to inform the Senate of the action of the House, and to inform the Senate that the House is ready to receive that body, which order being carried out.

The Senate, presided by its officers, marched into the Hall of the House in couples and "in solemn silence," and took seats on the democratic side, as usual.

The President of the Senate then announced to the joint convention the results reached by the two Houses, and said that in accordance with the provisions of the electoral bill the decision of the commission stands, and the Clerk was ordered to announce the vote of Florida for Hayes and Wheeler, which being done,

The President of the Senate then handed to the tellers the certificate of the vote of Georgia, which was read, and the vote was cast for Tilden and Hendricks.

The vote of Illinois was cast for Hayes, Indiana for Tilden, Iowa for Hayes, Kansas for Hayes, and Kentucky for Tilden without objection.

From Louisiana three certificates and an amusing burlesque, signed by five John Smiths, and causing the vote of the State for Cooper, were read, when objection was made to receiving the vote by Senator McDonald, of Indiana, and five others; also by Representative Gibson, of Louisiana, and five others.

Wessons, Wood, of New York, and Howe, of Missouri, also presented objections, all of which were referred to the electoral commission.

The joint convention then dissolved.

DECLINED NEW QUARTERS.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the House, yesterday, notified Wells and Anderson that he had prepared new quarters in one of the committee rooms of the Capitol in which they were to be imprisoned hereafter, but they declined to leave their present confinement in the crypt.

Foreign News.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—It is probable that Sir Edward Thornton, now British minister to the United States, will be appointed English ambassador to the Porte.

A dispatch to the Times from Vienna says:—"It is stated here that the powers will probably not answer the Russian circular at all. If an identical answer were given, the five powers would tacitly acknowledge Russia's claim for herself to freedom to withdraw from common action whenever she pleased, while separate answers would destroy the effect on the Czar's resolutions which an expression of all the powers might have. The circular itself did not ask or require an answer. It simply instructed the Russian representatives to ascertain the views of the Cabinets to which they are accredited. Curiously enough Russia does not seem very anxious to know the views of the Cabinets, for the Russian representatives have not yet taken any steps towards ascertaining them."

BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 12.—The Times says that the Liberal leaders after consultation have determined to submit a motion declaring that it is the duty of England in concert with the European powers, or failing in this, with Russia alone, to enforce upon Turkey the adoption of necessary provisions for the security of the provinces in the disturbed provinces.

President Grant.

New York, Feb. 12.—A Washington special says:—"It is reported that upon the completion of the negotiations now pending between Nicaragua and the United States for a treaty concerning the subject of the proposed inter-oceanic ship canal, President Grant will be tendered the position of President of the corporation or company which, under the provisions of the treaty, will be authorized to undertake the work of constructing this great canal. It is said that this fact explains the sudden purpose recently formed by President Grant to go to Europe as soon as his term of office expires, the trip abroad being in the interest of the company, for whom he will be empowered to negotiate a loan among the capitalists of Europe."
